IEEE Communications Email Newsletter

What is “ComSoc E-News”?

Over 90,000 communications engineers receive IEEE Communications monthly email newsletter, including IEEE Communications Magazine subscribers, attendees of IEEE Communications conferences and events, and other opt-in newsletter subscribers.

IEEE Communications newsletter, E-News, provides readers with communications industry news. E-news also covers timely information on standards, publications, IEEE Communications' awards, chapter and technical information, upcoming conferences, and activities. Each newsletter includes special free offers or reduced rate offers for books or various IEEE Communications products or events. Sponsors' text ads with link appear twice monthly (in e-News sent the first week of each month, and again in e-News Extra sent later in the month.)
