

Marconi Society Seeking Outstanding Young Scholars in ComSoc Community

Nominate a scholar for the prestigious Marconi Young Scholars Award - Submission deadline is 1 May 2011

Founded in 1972, the Marconi Society recognizes the achievements of living scientists in the field of information and communications science. The organization recognizes outstanding young scientists and engineers (age 27 or younger at the time of nomination) who have demonstrated exceptional capabilities and potential.

Young Scholars receive a $4000 cash prize plus $1000 in expenses to attend its annual awards gala September 9, 2011 in San Diego, CA. This is an opportunity for ComSoc's brightest young researchers to gain well-deserved recognition, and meet and network with some of the industry's best-known scientists and engineers.

Visit nomination instructions page to find out how to nominate a candidate.
Nominations must be submitted on behalf of a candidate by a faculty advisor and/or technical manager.
The deadline for submissions is May 1, 2011. If you have questions, please direct them to:
hattihamlin[at] comcast [dot] net (Ms. Hatti Hamlin), Executive Director of the Marconi Society 925.872.4328

---

Source URL: <http://www.comsoc.org/blog/marconi-society-seeking-outstanding-young-scholars-comsoc-community>