

Online Only Publication Opens to All

IEEE Communications Surveys & Tutorials, an online publication from IEEE Communications Society, offers free access to all IEEE and ComSoc members, as well as all who follow their interests in communications technologies. The publication provides researchers and other communications professionals with the ideal venue for publishing online tutorials and surveys that are exposed to an unlimited global audience.

Surveys & Tutorials aims to be a premier source of peer-reviewed, comprehensive tutorials and surveys, and pointers to further sources. Readers can search for in-depth information about a familiar area or an introduction into a new area. It is available online through the IEEE Xplore Digital Library and the IEEE ComSoc Digital Library.

The publication is currently looking for contributions for all future issues. Topics of interest include all areas of communications and networking, including but not limited to:

Networking and Networking Technology

Telecommunications Switching
