

Customized Training Options

Companies and IEEE Sections interested in providing training relevant to the wireless communications industry can request customized programs. Send your request for more information to Marilyn Catis at [mgcatis \[at\] verizon \[dot\] net](mailto:mgcatis@verizon.net) and provide the following information:

1. Your name, organization, and contact information including a phone number
2. A brief description of the material you'd like presented (for example, focus on the latest 802 standards; security, radio engineering, or something else.)
3. Approximate requested date of delivery to your employees / colleagues

Customized programs will bring the experts directly to you with a focus on content dedicated to meet your specific needs. Course materials will include copies of instructor slides and literature relevant to what was covered (either a book, articles, or a list of specific references for additional reading).

Customized in-house training offers several advantages:

- Content is customized for your specific needs
- Saves time and money effectively reducing travel costs and time away from home/work
- Offered in a group setting on-site can help promote teamwork and cross-train inter-departmental team members
