2019 Accomplishments

Networking at IEEE LATINCOM 2017: Seminar on Vehicular Communications by Prof. Carlos Gutierrez at the El Salvador Chapter

By Carlos Eugenio Martínez-Cruz - El Salvador Section Chair

Carlos Gutierrez receiving a diploma of recognition.

Last November, I attended the 9th Latin-American Conference on Communications (LATINCOM 2017) which was held in Guatemala City, Guatemala. IEEE LATINCOM was an excellent opportunity to meet researchers, professors and telecommunication practitioners.

As part of the social events, ComSoc Guatemala organized a short trip to Guatemala's most beautiful city, Antigua Guatemala. It was on that trip that many of us had the opportunity to directly talk with our colleagues. ComSoc conferences have proved to be a very good tool to connect people and to expand professional relations among its members. Many future professional collaboration activities were settled there.

Telecommunication professionals that attended the seminar at Carlos Gutierrez.

For instance, while we were visiting Mayan museums, I arranged a two-day seminar on vehicular communication with professor Carlos Gutierrez, from San Luis Potosi University, Mexico. Also at the same time, professor Carlos Gutierrez established contacts with researchers from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Brigham Young University. In a nutshell, ComSoc conferences are very effective to connect members and their chapters.

Problems Encountered

Dear Chapter Chairs,
I am sorry to repeat my appeal again, but I am short of articles for the Global Communications Newsletter.

July/2019

Problems Encountered

I urgently need more reports: I repeat my invitation to submit more articles from all Chapters.

July/2019

Problems Solutions Plans

- Each ComSoc Chapter should write at least one report

- GCN chair could report quarterly report's situation

Next Year Work

- Prepare 2020-2021 working plan
 - ◆ Improve our figures
 - ◆ Get one newsletter per month
- Write about 2019 second semester activities
 - ◆ Each chapter chair attending RCCC must send a report to be published for 2020 GCN editions

Thanks
